MR. SCALES TALKS.

Tells Why the Dispensary Will Not Hurt Democracy.

Mr. A. M. Scales, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Guilford, speaking last night as to the effect of establishing a dispensary upon the democratic party, said:

"The opposition to the dispensary at Greensboro have urged that the passage of the bill will hurt the democratic party. If they mean that it will be better for a political standpoint for the general assembly not to pass it, I beg very emphatically to differ with them, for I believe it will hurt the party a great deal more if the plain command of the white people should be disregarded. The white people have spoken in the primary, and notwithstanding the fact that the opposition, fearing to expose their weakness had announced that they would not vote, 531 qualified white voters came through rain and snow and sleet and voted for the dispensary. Do you suppose such men as Senator Wilson, who has spent the best years of his life in the service of the party, and Representatives Bunch and Kennett, as well balanced men as you can find in the state, would support this bill if a majority of the white voters did not favor it?"

"We have a great temperance county, there not being a barroom in the county except at Greensboro, and I am thoroughly satisfied that a large majority of our people will be drawn all the more closely to our party. "We are staunch democrats and expect to allow nothing to dampen our ardor for democracy, but we insist that a majority should rule. We will in my opinion lose very few votes on account of the passage of this bill. The head and front of the opposition, Mr. Moses Cone, is not a citizen of our county, and resides, I believe, in New York. Some of the barroom men may vote against us, but I believe some of them will be too patriotic not to submit to the will of the majority after the smoke of the battle clears away, and the rest of the opposition will not, I feel satisfied, be swayed from their allegiance to democracy. It is not a question of whether it would not have been better for the people to have waited, for when the people are stirred as ours are, we cannot make them wait. It is a 'condition not a theory that confronts us,' and our duty is clear."

"I wish the members of the legislature could have seen the mass-meeting last Wednesday night in the court house. As the Daily Record said, it was worse than crowded. Standing room was at a premium and the enthusiasm was unbounded. No, sir, you can put Guilford in the democratic column in the next election."

It was under the chairmanship of Mr. Scales that Guilford gave the biggest democratic majority in the history of the county. He knows as much about politics in Guilford as anybody, and possesses much of the political wisdom of his distinguished uncle.—News and Observer.

Artistic Work.

The Odell Hardware Co. have had placed on their store, two of the prettiest signs ever put up in Greensboro. These signs were made by the artistic house and sign painter, J. H. Newberry. They are a credit to any city ten times the size of Greensboro. Mr. Newberry is up-to-date in the new arts of house and sign painting, and he informs the writer that his prices are as reasonable as the so-called painters. The citizens of Greensboro always ready to extend their cordial hospitality to any new, worthy citizens, are proving this assertion by the many handsome new signs recently made by Mr. Newberry. It will pay any who have houses or signs to paint to have a talk with him on his new paints and painting.

Business Items.

The seal of public approval attests the merits of Shrier's $3.00 challenge shoes.

We always share our good luck with our patrons, while we thereby lose a larger profit, we gain much in good will and that is a decided profit.

Shrier's Exclusive Shoe Store.

The principle of "small profits and quick returns" has come to stay, and it is by adopting it heartily, that Shrier is making such phenomenal progress in the shoe business.

Your self interests bids you as a wise and economical buyer to inspect our goods. You gain much by trading with us. We as well.

Wise people do not use cheap goods. Economical should not. Medium goods are best. They go farther, more satisfaction. This is logic.

Shrier's Exclusive Shoe Store.

The dispensary fight in Greensboro is altogether a local affair. We believe that this very intelligent legislation will leave the settlement of this question to the people of Greensboro and their representatives.

BY CABLE AND TELEGRAPH

From Over The World The News Is Flashed.

INSURGENTS STILL UNSETTLED.

France's New President Is Surprised at Hostile Demonstrations—Says He Is With The Majority.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM. Manila, Feb. 20.—At ten o'clock this morning the insurgents, encouraged by the withdrawal of the California and Idaho troops, after a skirmish at Guadalupe followed the Americans at a safe distance. They kept up a desultory and annoying firing during the night and several shots penetrated General King's headquarters. An unusual number of the enemy have been seen to the northward, which causes a suspicion that they are planning to attack McArthur's division.

LOUBET SURPRISED. Paris, Feb. 20.—The Figaro says Loubet is surprised at the hostility shown him and said: "No one has any right to say I am a Dreyfusian or an anti-Dreyfusian. I am with the majority of the nation and a patriot."

A hundred and five of the 280 persons arrested for participating in the disorders of Saturday night and yesterday will be arraigned in the police courts today. Among them are included some prominent titled members of Young Royalist association and a number of barristers and professors and gentlemen of fortune. There have been one hundred and sixty further arrests.

FIRE RAGING IN LONDON. London, Feb. 20.—A fire of alarming proportions is raging in a large warehouse on Broad street. The house is filled with silk and lace trimmings. There is grave danger of the fire spreading to other buildings.

ITALIAN BARK ASHORE. Nassau, N. H., Feb. 20.—The Italian bark Barba Luis, Pensacola for Georgia, went ashore on the 14th on Little Bahama bank, and is a total loss. The captain and eight of the crew have arrived here. Three of the crew were drowned and two died as a result of exposure to the weather.

AGONIZING IN NEW YORK. New York, Feb. 20.—Agonizillo, who is stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria, is being shadowed by detectives all the time he is in this country. He refuses to talk.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT.

Of Great Importance To The Citizens of Greensboro.

There will be a mass meeting of citizens, especially those who favor the dispensary movement, at the court house tonight. This will probably be the last meeting held as the matter is now before the legislature, and the presence of every dispensary advocate is requested and expected tonight.

Nobody Big Enough.

Charity and Children says there are "several hundred thousand citizens who do not care a rap" whether the Messrs. Cone "go or stay." The Messrs. Cone are progressive business men whose presence is desired in North Carolina. All industrial and progressive men are wanted and welcomed. The mistake the Messrs. Cone have made is in supposing they could have more voice in controlling legislation than other citizens. If they think a threat to leave the state will cause the legislature to kill the anti-trust bill, they are very much mistaken. Trusts are inimical to all legitimate business. They are illegal outlaws. They must be exterminated.

The Messrs. Cone make a mistake to raise the issue. The state wants them and all other capitalists to remain and help us develop its resources and give them the glad hand. But nobody is big enough to dictate to a North Carolina legislature.—News and Observer.

THE GREAT ENGLISH BAND.

Lieutenant Dan Godfrey and his Guards are Coming.

The Anglo-American Alliance in music will be illustrated, when Lieut. Dan Godfrey and his English Guards Band come to America. They sail from London late in February and begin their tour in Washington early in March; appearing first before the president out of compliment to the American people. In New York the scarlet-coated visitors appear under the auspices of the seventh regiment in their splendid armories where they are making arrangements to seat 10,000 people, and are undertaking an expense of over $4000 for one evening concert. Everywhere that the band appears their visit is being made the occasion of an outburst of that friendly feeling now happily existing between the two great peoples of the Anglo-Saxon race. Lieutenant Dan Godfrey is the most famous military conductor of the annals of the English Army have ever known. He is called "The Easter King of English Bandmasters," and his band is the finest military musicians who have served in the Guards Regiments. Undoubtedly a popular welcome awaits the English Guardsmen when they appear at G. F. College Chapel, March 9th.

SUPERIOR COURT BEGINS.

Judge Bryan Presiding—Solicitor Brooks Prosecuting.

The charge of Judge Henry R. Bryan to the grand jury this morning at the opening of Guilford county superior court was the most complete and exhaustive heard here in recent years. It occupied fifty minutes and was plain, pointed and strong.

This week our people will have an opportunity of seeing and hearing more of our new solicitor. He has made a splendid record in the counties where he has held the reins of prosecution. The interests of the state are safe in his hands.

Judge Bryan is not a stranger to our people. He is known as a most conscientious, christian gentleman, learned in the law and painstaking in the dispatch of business.

The following cases have been tried this afternoon: Ella Brown, (colored,) selling whiskey, two cases, guilty in both; two months in jail in each case.

J. A. Ball, (white,) larceny, pleads guilty; eighteen months on county roads.

What is democracy? It is the voice of the people. Can a democratic legislature go back on that old fashioned doctrine? We grow not.

Rockland shoes for men are too well known in Greensboro to need any special recommendation. Thacker & Brookmann have about two dozen pairs of the excellent shoes in the four dollar grade to close out at three dollars a pair; they are in both laced and congress styles. Better secure a pair before your size is sold out.

THE CANAL AMENDMENT.

May Defeat The River and Harbor Bill.

PLAN FOR A HARBOR OF REFUGE.

A Change in The Bill as Reported From The Committee on Commerce—Other News.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The addition of the Nicaragua canal amendment to the river and harbor appropriation bill, by the senate committee on commerce, renders the fate of the bill a matter of great doubt. There is no reason to believe but the river and harbor bill, as reported, will go through the senate by a large majority, but the passage of the measure through the house is doubtful. In the opinion of many senators and representatives the addition of the amendment will, if persisted in by the senate, defeat the river and harbor bill for this session.

On the other hand the friends of the construction of the canal claim that the house will concur in the senate amendment by a large majority, despite the possible opposition of the speaker. The influence of the speaker in matters of legislation, however, is well understood, and it is his attitude, together with the opposition of Chairman Cannon, of the house appropriations committee, to the large expenditure required, which makes the outcome one of extreme doubt. Many of the congressmen who are anxious to secure the passage of the river and harbor bill, including senators who are known to be friendly to the construction of the canal, believe that the addition of the amendment will prove a serious burden.

The changes in the bill as reported from the committee on commerce, of interest to North Carolina, are as follows: A paragraph is added, providing for the appointment of a board of three army engineers to make examination, survey, plan and estimate for a harbor of refuge at or near Cape Lookout, five thousand dollars being appropriated to pay cost of same.

The appropriation for the improvement of Deep creek, Virginia, from the south branch of the Elizabeth river to the new lock at the Dismal Swamp canal, Turner's Cut Level, Croatan sound and Pasquotank river, North Carolina, is stricken from the bill.

Item for the improvement of Cape Fear river, North Carolina, increased from $2,500 to $5,000.

Appropriation for improving Neuse river, North Carolina, increased from $5,000 to $10,000.

Appropriation for improving Trent river, North Carolina, increased from $1,000 to $2,500.

Appropriation for maintenance of Fishing creek, North Carolina, is amended, and an appropriation of $7,750 is made for completing the improvement.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, has presented a memorial of the Cotton & Grain Exchange, of Newbern, North Carolina, relative to the freedom of private property on the sea from capture during war.

He has also presented a petition of local union, No. 528, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, of Galveston, Texas, praying for the passage of the eight hour bill.

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina has introduced a bill providing for an appropriation for the erection of a new public building at Winston, North Carolina. The bill has been referred to the senate committee on public buildings and grounds.

It is said that during the present week, or early next week that a day will be set apart for the consideration of public building bills in the house, but the prospects are not very favorable for the passage of those of interest to North Carolina. A day may also be set apart in the senate for the passage of these measures before adjournment.

Postmasters have been appointed in North Carolina as follows: Mrs. Bettie Wright, Charlie Sampson county; Armstrong Clark, Crow, Ashe; John Lupton, Hobbucken, Pamlico; Theophilus Kimmel, Jr., Hutto, Forsyth; L. P. Eckard, Mountain Creek, Catawba; George S. Hathcock, Whitely, Stanley.

Special service has been discontinued in North Carolina at Dolphin, Duplin county, from Mount Olive. From February 28th, 1899, at which date the office will be discontinued.

Postmasters have been commissioned in North Carolina as follows: Emma M. McCall, Flemming; Adolphus S. Dotson, Tweed.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter purgative tonics. Price, 50c.

AGAINST DICTATORSHIP.

Is the Will of Democrats to be Thwarted by the Legislature?

A gentleman who has lived in Greensboro all his life, and who occupies one of the most influential positions in the city, declares he never saw the town as enthusiastic for any cause as it is for the dispensary. The people are not only against saloons; but they are also for home rule against dictatorship. At the election Thursday the capitalist champion of the whiskey men, who controls a large amount of labor, publicly had taken down in a book, the names of all who had the manhood to vote against him. Many laboring men who are dependent upon him for wages, had the courage, right under his eye, to cast their ballots against him. Thank God, the spirit of the patriots of Mecklenburg, Alamance and Guilford is not dead.

And now, after we have conquered the coalition of money and whiskey against the will of the majority, after we have vindicated the democratic principle of home rule—what next? Failing to carry their point by democratic methods at home they appeal to a democratic legislature to help thwart the will of our people and the will of our representatives.

If this plan succeeds it will be the most amazing prostitution of democracy, the most ungrateful return for party loyalty and labor, that we have ever known. It will bring bitter shame and humiliation to the people of Greensboro. It will rejoice the hearts of the whiskey men and their northern champion.

Another Business Change.

It was announced this afternoon the Guilford Racket Store, which has been run by Mr. J. E. Ferguson, at Phoenix's old stand on South Elm street had sold out to Mr. Sample Brown, of the Brown Mercantile Co.

Stock is being taken this afternoon, preparatory to turning over the store to Mr. Brown. We are not advised as to whether Mr. Ferguson will remain with us or not.

If Joshua, who commanded the sun to stand still, were here, he might stop this dispensary movement, but no ordinary man or set of men can do it.

SHALL THE PEOPLE BE HEARD?

Four weeks ago the dispensary agitation began in Greensboro, and the interest has steadily increased up to the present hour. A petition containing the names of three-fourths of the white voters on the city registration books, and a majority of them on the precinct books, was presented to the legislature. It was argued by the opposition that petitions did not fairly represent the sentiment of the community, and that the matter should be left to a vote of the people.

In order to be entirely fair and to represent the will of their constituency our representatives asked that a primary of the white voters be held, promising to be guided by a majority of the votes cast in the primary. Those who plead so earnestly that the people be heard, now changed their tactics, and declared that such primary was unlawful and unfair. They called a mass meeting (which consisted mostly of vice-presidents) and passed resolutions protesting against the dispensary, and declaring that they would not attend. The interest felt by the dispensary people was clearly shown last Thursday. Though the weather was the worst we've had this year and there was no opposition in the field, five hundred and thirty of our people trudged through sleet and rain, over sidewalks as slick as glass to cast their votes for dispensary.

Completely whipped out at home, the fight has been transferred to Raleigh, and the opposition is pleading that if this measure is passed it will ruin the democratic party. In our opinion this fear is altogether groundless. So far, it is not a political but a moral question. The friends of the measure do not wish it to become political. We do not hesitate to say, however, that the passage of this bill will strengthen the democratic party in Guilford county. There is a stronger temperance sentiment in this county, than in any other in the state. A large number of our people are ardent prohibitionists. They are with us in this fight. On this element the democratic party is largely dependant for success. To pass this bill will meet the approbation of the temperance sentiment. We are frank to say that we believe that the danger to the democratic party will be far greater if the bill is not passed.

You may talk about stopping this agitation, but you had as well undertake to stop a prairie fire. If the matter is settled now, it will be out of the way by the next election; if it isn't settled now, no power on earth can keep it out of politics two years hence. This is purely a local matter, affecting only the city of Greensboro. A large majority of the white citizens of the community desire the passage of this bill. They are terribly in earnest about it. The overflow meetings held in the court house show plainly that the sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of the dispensary.

Will this democratic white man's legislature turn a deaf ear to the voice of a majority of the white people, because, forsooth, this measure displeases a few people, the leading one among them being a citizen of New York and not of Greensboro. We fail to see how a democratic legislature could do a thing so undemocratic.

Our people have never been so deeply stirred on any question. To refuse to respect the wishes of the people in this matter will, we believe, be fatal to the democratic party in Guilford county. Our senator and representatives are as loyal democrats as the state contains. They certainly have the good of the party at heart. They are with us heart and soul in this matter, because they believe in the old democratic doctrine that the people should be heard.

The house and senate have both passed the constitutional amendment by more than the required majority.

In the senate every democrat voted for the amendment, every republican against it and the populists were evenly divided. Senator Wilson, of this county said in voting for it, that as the last senator to vote it was the pride of his life to lower the capstone on the edifice of white supremacy.

It is announced now that it is the purpose of Senator Butler to talk the confirmation of Judge Ewart to death. That is a happy hit. If there is one thing in which the "wily wizard" excels it is in talking things to death. The Charlotte Observer remarks that he is no doubt encouraged in this policy by his success in talking the populist party of North Carolina to death.

Dispensary advocates want a fair fight. They are fighting fair. They faithfully complied with the request of their representatives. The barroom men ignored the request. They first went down to Raleigh with a fraudulent petition, with some names signed as many as five times on it. Was that fair? Was it honest? They then ignored the primary. Was that sincere? They knew a great majority of the white people here favored the dispensary and were afraid to vote.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Their Own Fault.

The advocates of the dispensary had no trouble in winning out in the primary at Greensboro, the other side refusing to take part in it, preferring to make their fight before the legislature. Guilford's representatives did the right thing in allowing the people of that city to thus express themselves on the matter, and if the anti's are defeated it is their own fault.—Durham Herald.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. Howard Gardner's.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," or "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Instat vigorously on having it if "something else" is offering you. Howard Gardner.

IN THE TWILIGHT OF LOVE.

If years ago you told me, dear,
That on a day our dreams would fade
To these half hearted fancies drear,
I should have grieved and felt dismayed.
But yet so softly has the rain
Of dead years' ashes settled on Each glowing passion that the pain
Was smothered ere all light had gone.
Ah, be it thus with love's decease!
The day is done, the shrine too high
To leave those destined tragedies
Let us steal down ere night comes by.
—Thomas Walsh in Bookman.

EYES LIKE TELESCOPES.

The South African Bushmen Are Gifted With Marvellous Sight.
It has often been remarked that civilized people tend to become short sighted. This is because in towns and cities their vision is mostly confined to short distances. Savage races, on the other hand, are generally gifted with remarkably keen sight, and few tribes are more noteworthy in this respect than the African bushmen, whose eyes are veritable telescopes. This power is no doubt a wise provision of nature, for the bushmen are a small race, and if they were not able to danger a long way off they would soon be exterminated by their various enemies, whether savages of other tribes or wild beasts.

A traveler in South Africa relates that while walking one day in company with a friendly bushman the savage suddenly stopped and gazing across the plain cried out that there was a lion ahead. The traveler gazed long and earnestly in the direction indicated by the bushman, but could see nothing. "Nonsense," he said, "there's nothing there." And he went forward again, with the bushman following at his heels, trembling and unwilling and still asserting that he could see a lion.

Presently the native came to a dead stop and refused to budge another inch. For this time, he declared, he could see a lioness with a number of cubs, a fact which made the animal more dangerous than ever. But the European, who could see no lioness, much less its cubs, pushed ahead, declaring the bushman was dreaming. After walking a quarter of a mile, however, he could dimly make out an object moving across the horizon. Still doubting that it could be the object which the bushman said he had seen, he continued to advance, and at last was able to distinguish a lioness, with her cubs around her, walking leisurely toward the woods.—Chums.

In the Hands of an Enemy.

"Saw a strange thing in Toledo the other day," said a citizen who was being shaved in a Griswold street barber shop. "I was walking from the hotel to the office of a lumber firm and met a man one side of whose face was black as your hat." Every razor along the line was suspended in the air and the white of every eye became more prominent. "Wouldn't it kill you?" gasped the artist in charge of the razor. "Dat takes de rag su'. An de odder side wa' white?"

"No; that was black too." There was no work done for some time, as all but the man who had done the questioning were shouting their hilarity. He looked so fierce and made such unprofessional slashes with his razor that the citizen decided to let his mustache grow, didn't want his hair combed and left a half dollar without mentioning change.—Detroit Free Press.

Gussie's Big Brothers.

"Yes," said the principal of the "old ladies' seminary," to the proud parent, "you ought to be very happy, my dear sir, to be the father of so large a family, all the members of which appear to be so devoted to one another." "Devoted! Large family!" gasped the old gentleman in amazement. "What on earth do you mean, ma'am?" "Why, yes, indeed," said the principal, beaming through her glasses. "No fewer than 11 of Gussie's brothers have been here this term to take her out, and she tells me she expects that all one with the blue eyes again tomorrow."—London Tit-Bits.

A Remembrance.

"Have you anything besides this photograph by which I can identify him?" asked the detective. "Yes, I have," replied the hard featured matron, whose husband had deserted her. And, going to her bureau drawer, she took out a bunch of ginger colored hair, tied with a ribbon. "Him and me had some words one day," she said, "and I pulled all this out of his head."—Chicago Tribune.

Birds of Significance.

"Peace is represented by a dove, isn't it?" asked the man who was looking over some allegorical pictures. "Well," answered the official who had been to a diplomatic banquet, "doves need to figure in that connection. But quail on least appears to be more popular now."—Washington Star.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Walls of South Gardiner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vender. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. E. Holton.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1909.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central and Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the services and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thwait, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

The Poor and the Poor.
A very little familiarity with the poor districts of any city is sufficient to show how primitive and frontierlike are the neighborly relations, says Jane Addams in The Atlantic. The fact that the economic condition of all alike is on a most precarious level makes the ready outflow of sympathy and material assistance the most natural thing in the world. There are numerous instances of heroic self sacrifice quite unknown in the circles where greater economic advantages make that kind of intimate knowledge of one's neighbors impossible.

An Irish family, in which the man has lost his place and the woman is struggling to eke out the scanty savings by day work, will take in a widow and her five children who have been turned into the street without a moment's reflection upon the physical discomforts involved. The most maligned landlady is usually ready to lend a scuttled of coal to a suffering tenant or to share her supper.

A woman for whom the writer had long tried in vain to find work failed to appear at the appointed time when a job turned up at last. Upon investigation it transpired that a neighbor further down the street was taking ill; that the children ran for the family friend, who went of course, saying simply, when reasons for her non-appearance were demanded, "It broke me heart to leave the place, but what could I do?"

A View of Edmunds.
George F. Edmunds had a high reputation in the country as an able lawyer and a faithful and independent senator. He had unquestionably rendered great public service in the senate. If elected, I believe he would have administered the presidency on the principles which a large majority of the people of Massachusetts held. He was an excellent debater. He was very fond of criticizing and objecting to what was proposed by other men. He seemed never so happy as when in opposition to the majority of his associates. But he possessed what persons of that temper commonly lack—great capacity for constructive statesmanship. Any measure of which he was the author would be likely to accomplish its purpose and to stand fire.

David Davis, who was president pro tempore of the senate, told him he could always compel Edmunds to vote in the negative on a question by putting the question in the old New England fashion, "Contrary minded will say no," for Edmunds was always contrary minded. I once told him, borrowing a saying of an Englishman, that if George Edmunds were the only man in the world George would quarrel with Edmunds.—Senator George F. Hoar, in Scribner's.

A Painter of Children.
A writer in The Century tells how the noted French artist, M. Boutet de Monvel, became a painter of children's portraits.

De Monvel's illustrations are full of atmosphere and an exquisite feeling for the out of door world. The fine effects of light and shade, the tone and composition of these pictures place them far beyond any others of their class, and proclaim them the work of a consummate artist. Boutet de Monvel spoke to the children of France as they had never been spoken to before. Bending over the bewitching pictures they exclaimed, "Ah, he understands! And the fathers and mothers, looking from the little ones who read and enjoyed to the pages over which they bent, saw at once that here was a painter with a new and rare faculty for comprehending childhood. They sought Boutet de Monvel to paint their sons and daughters, till he became, as he might say, "painter in ordinary" to the children.

State Officials Paid in Pelts.
Probably few people today know that the original name of the state of Tennessee was Franklin, and that in 1798 the salaries of the officers of this commonwealth were paid in pelts, but the following is a correct copy of the law:

Be enacted by the general assembly of the state of Franklin, that from and after the first day of January, 1798, the salaries of this commonwealth be as follows to wit: His excellency the governor, per annum, 100 deerskins.
His honor, the chief justice, 500 deerskins.
The secretary to his excellency the governor, 500 racoon skins.
County clerk, 300 beaver skins.
Clerk of the house of commons, 200 racoon skins.
Members of the assembly, per diem, 9 racoon skins.
Justice's fee for serving a warrant, 1 mink skin.
—Murfreesboro (Tenn.) Independent Banner.

Difference Between Them.
"After all," said the bachelor, "the difference between love and dyspepsia is purely relative. It is a matter of time only. One is future and the other past."
"How do you mean?" asked the bewildered maid.
"The lover doesn't want to eat, and the dyspeptic wishes he hadn't," answered the bachelor, thereby thinking he had scored one on the sex that was continually disturbing his peace of mind.—Chicago Post.

Depends.
"Thomas, how would you correct the sentence," "He laid down on the lounge?"
"I wouldn't correct it at all, ma'am. It's all right."
"How do you make that out, Thomas?"
"He was carrying an armful of down, ma'am, and he laid it on the lounge."
—Chicago Tribune.

Too Clever to Keep.
First Shipping Clerk—Have you heard that Robson has got sacked?
Second Shipping Clerk—No. Is that a fact? I thought he was such a clever sort of chap.
First S. C.—Too clever by half. He invoiced a consignment of cradles as matrimonial fruit baskets.—Vanity Fair.

C., on Monday, March 1, (being the sixth day) to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described land and premises, to-wit: A house and lot on Cedar street in the city of Greensboro and fronting on said street 60 1/2 feet and running back 100 feet and adjoining the lands of T. M. Pickett on the north, Bob Aiken on the south, J. W. Richardson on the west, and of T. M. Pickett on the east, of one acre, more or less. Upon which is situated a nice five roomed cottage with a bath and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

People Who Live Long.
Among the many curious things noted by the actuaries the following are a few of the most interesting. Women have a much better prospect of long life than men, and the chances of married people are distinctly higher than those of bachelors and old maids. From the data provided by the records of various churches it has been deduced that the peaceful Quakers have most frequently received the blessings of long life, and in the fifth commandment, while the death rate is remarkably high among Methodist clergymen. Annuitants as a class live from three to five years longer than other people, and this is not due to human perversity, as some humorists have suggested. It is undoubtedly due to the lack of worry regarding the changes of fortune when a regular income is a certainty.

Although no statistics have been collected on the death rate in the civil service, where the yearly income almost paralyzes the character of an annuity, it would perhaps be found that there is some scientific basis for President Grant's cynical observation regarding this class, "Few die and none resign."
—Ainslee's Magazine.

A Man of Resource.
A big, uncouth looking stranger, with shoulders like a Hercules, walked into a department store late one afternoon, and after making about a minute, stepped up to a salesman and made known his wish to buy a shirt. A couple of samples were shown him, and he informed the salesman that either one would do.

There was an article that sold for $1.50, and in making payment the stranger pulled from his hip pocket a huge roll of bills. He apparently skimmed them over in search of a small bill, but he could not find one of less denomination than $500. One of these was handed the surprised salesman, but he arose to the occasion and sent it away with the cashier. When the change came, it was nearly all in small bills. The stranger interrupted the salesman in his work of counting the bills by reaching for the pile and wadding it into his hip pocket.

"Oh, I guess it's all right, and you give that shirt to a porter if you can find one big enough to wear it. All I wanted was the change. You see, it was after banking hours, and I am a man of resource. Good day."—Philadelphia Record.

Mutuum in Parvo.
"John," said the old man to his son, "I will give you $100.00 to go away with. Maybe, as you don't like my business, you will find a better one."
Three weeks later the young man landed in New York. A month later, finding but $3 in his possession, he determined to return home again. It was best to let his father know beforehand, but how? A letter would be too slow, so off went John to the telegraph office.

"A quarter (one shilling) a word to London, sir," answered the polite clerk to his inquiry.
"If you will tell my father I've spent all my money, and I'm sorry, and I'm coming home and want him to forgive me and a lot of other things, and I can only pay for six words to tell him everything," said John.
"Get it short," replied the clerk.
John sat down and thought. Soon after, to his immense astonishment, the old man received the following telegram: Squills, London: Fatted calf for one.

A Critic's Evasion.
It is risky to give one's own opinion about a matter of dog, a house designed by himself or a picture which he values highly. He who gives the opinion stands on a slippery place, and should the judgment be unfavorable he will slide far from the man's esteem.

Fused the eccentric artist and professor of the Royal academy, was invited by a nobleman to see a painting of which he was the proud owner. Fuselli went, taking a pupil with him. The painting was shown by the nobleman himself. The artist examined it and exclaimed, "Extraordinary!" The nobleman, greatly pleased at the ejaculation, lauded the picture to the skies, pointed out its beauties, and Fuselli cried: "Extraordinary! Extraordinary!"

"The way home the pupil said: 'Mr. Fuselli, I don't think much of that picture. What did you mean by 'extraordinary'?'"
"Extraordinarily bad," was the reply of the artist, who had not cared to offend a lord who might become a patron.—Youth's Companion.

The Exception to the Rule.
Halsted—Queer thing happened over on the west side last night.
Walsh—What was it?
Halsted—A young man playfully snapped an unloaded pistol at his sweetheart, and—
Walsh—And the funeral takes place tomorrow, of course?
Halsted—No; that's where the queer part comes in. The weapon failed to go off.—Chicago News.

A Remarkable Letter.
A young lady of very extraordinary capacity lately addressed the following letter to her cousin: "We are all well, and mother's got his Terrix, brother Tom is got the Hupin Kaugh, and sister Ann has got a babe, and I hope these few lines will find you the same. Rite some. Your affectionate kuzzen."—London Fun.

A dutiful German son advertises in the Leipzig Telegraph: "Marriage—I seek for my father, a strictly respectable man with a quiet business, an elderly, solitary widow or maiden with some property in cash. Address with a statement of conditions."
The Hindoos were the first to use playing cards, though they were used in China as early as 1130 A. D.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rid the system of the cause of the complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case.

The Spring Time and Robins Have Come.

So sang a young fellow as he passed down the street a few days ago when the snow was about 12 inches deep and the mercury at zero.

In a door way, hiding himself as much as possible from the freezing northeast wind, stood a tramp. On hearing the merry voice of the jolly young fellow as he plowed his way through the snow, and being struck with the words of the song, ventured his head out further enough to be seen, hailing the young man. The tramp, with tears in his voice, said:
"My friend, the birds may be here, but you tudy off on spring."

This is the Sunny South, but we are to have more winter yet. Warm clothes are very essential. If you need them, we are ready to furnish them and at an unusual low price, preparatory to laying in the kind that will be in demand when the spring time and robins do come.

CAPT. T. K. FAGAN DEAD.

Passed away Saturday Night at His Home on Clay Street.

Another of Greensboro's old landmarks was taken away Saturday night at 10:45 o'clock when Capt. Thomas K.
Fagan died at his home in this city.
He was 78 years old and had been a resident of this city for many years, during which time his face had become familiar to almost every citizen. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served as captain of a cavalry company from the opening of the war until the surrender. He had been feeble for some time and died after a brief illness. He leaves a wife and several sons and daughters to mourn his demise.

The funeral was conducted from the residence at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. Horace Weeks Jones, rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal church, of which Mr. Fagan was a faithful member, officiating. The remains were interred in Greens Hill cemetery.

Firement

An adjourned meeting of the fire department will be held in the hall of Steamer Co. No. 1, Tuesday 21st inst., at 7:30 p. m. At that time we hope to see every member of the department present. Show your interest by attending, and if not then don't criticise what will be done. We must get to work. By order of the chief.
